
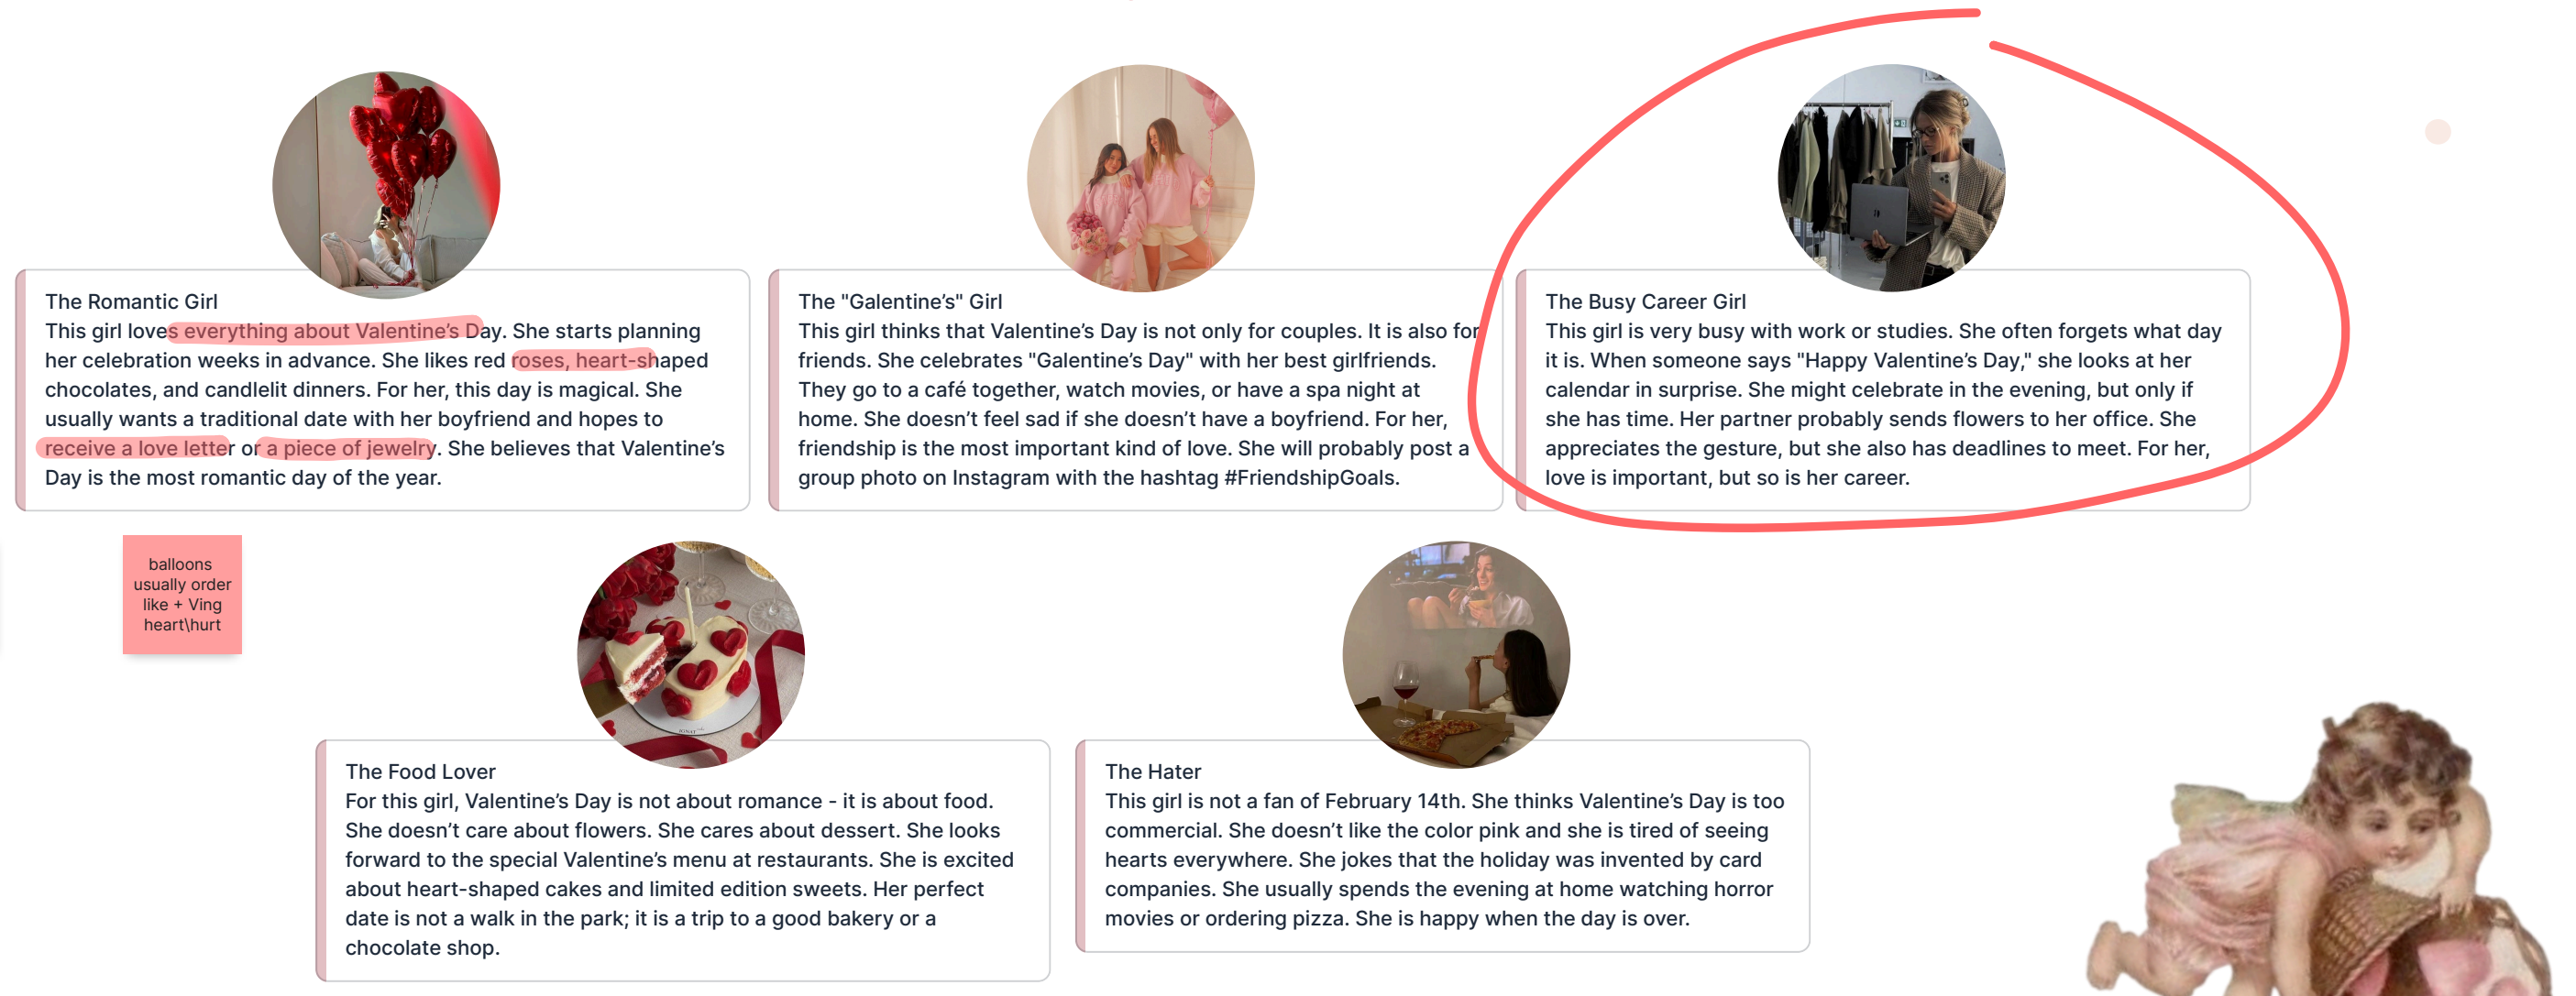
What is love?

1/ warm-up

Read the description of the girls on Valentine's Day. Who do you relate to?



The Romantic Girl
This girl loves everything about Valentine's Day. She starts planning her celebration weeks in advance. She likes red roses, heart-shaped chocolates, and candlelit dinners. For her, this day is magical. She usually wants a traditional date with her boyfriend and hopes to receive a love letter or a piece of jewelry. She believes that Valentine's Day is the most romantic day of the year.

The "Galentine's" Girl
This girl thinks that Valentine's Day is not only for couples. It is also for friends. She celebrates "Galentine's Day" with her best girlfriends. They go to a café together, watch movies, or have a spa night at home. She doesn't feel sad if she doesn't have a boyfriend. For her, friendship is the most important kind of love. She will probably post a group photo on Instagram with the hashtag #FriendshipGoals.

The Busy Career Girl
This girl is very busy with work or studies. She often forgets what day it is. When someone says "Happy Valentine's Day," she looks at her calendar in surprise. She might celebrate in the evening, but only if she has time. Her partner probably sends flowers to her office. She appreciates the gesture, but she also has deadlines to meet. For her, love is important, but so is her career.

The Food Lover
For this girl, Valentine's Day is not about romance - it is about food. She doesn't care about flowers. She cares about dessert. She looks forward to the special Valentine's menu at restaurants. She is excited about heart-shaped cakes and limited edition sweets. Her perfect date is not a walk in the park; it is a trip to a good bakery or a chocolate shop.

The Hater
This girl is not a fan of February 14th. She thinks Valentine's Day is too commercial. She doesn't like the color pink and she is tired of seeing hearts everywhere. She jokes that the holiday was invented by card companies. She usually spends the evening at home watching horror movies or ordering pizza. She is happy when the day is over.

I used to think Valentine's Day was just for couples. But this year is different. Last summer, I ________ a girl from my yoga class. Her name is Emma. I wanted to ________ , but I was too shy. My best friend decided to ________ . He told her I liked her, and surprisingly, she said yes!

Our first date was a ________ for her - she didn't know it was me! But when she saw me, she smiled. Honestly, it was ________ for me. I think for her too.

Now we've been together for six months. I know it's not ________ - it's real. I don't want to ________ , ever. Maybe one day we'll ________ together.

This Valentine's Day, I'm cooking dinner for her. I hope she likes it.
